

Invisible Worlds

Fukushima and the Legacy of Nuclear Forgetfulness

Malkin Penthouse at Harvard Kennedy School
March 29, 2019
2:30-6:30pm

2:30 - 3:30	Hiroko Aihara Journalist Eight Years On: damage, discrimination, and resistance in Fukushima Comment: Makoto Takahashi Harvard Kennedy School	5:00 - 6:00	Panel 2 — Forgetting the Future Kyoko Sato Stanford University Atomic Survivals: Radiation knowledge and Hibakusha narratives Denia Djokic Harvard Kennedy School Invisible Toxicity: Entrenched narratives in the nuclear patriarchy Sheila Jasanoff Harvard Kennedy School Landscapes of Erasure: Contamination, community, and law in Fukushima
3:30 - 4:30	Panel 1 — Risk and Remembrance Matthew Bunn Harvard Kennedy School Missing the Nose on Our Face: How critical risk information is sometimes ignored Sebastien Philippe Harvard Kennedy School Forgetting the Unknown: Fukushima's invisible ripples in the nuclear weapons complex Ulrike Felt University of Vienna Between Pasts and Futures: On radically reconfiguring a national sociotechnical imaginary of nuclear energy	6:00 - 6:30	Christopher Lawrence Harvard Kennedy School Wrap-up and adjourn